U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Reviews Cleanup at Florence Land Recontouring Landfill Superfund Site

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is conducting its fourth Five-Year Review of the Florence Land Recontouring Landfill Superfund Site located in the Townships of Florence, Mansfield and Springfield, Burlington County, New Jersey. This review seeks to confirm the remedy selected in the 1986 Record of Decision (ROD) which included the construction of: a landfill cap; a slurry containment wall; an upgradient groundwater interceptor system; a new storm water management system. This in addition to leachate treatment and disposal; gas collection and treatment; removal and disposal of lagoon liquids and sediments, and other surface debris; construction of a fence with warning signs; and operation and maintenance (O&M) of the constructed remedy. The remedy also called for supplemental sampling of groundwater, surface water, and sediments during design. All work was completed by March 1994. An O&M plan followed requiring continued maintenance of the landfill cap and periodic sampling.

A summary of these remedial activities and evaluation of the protectiveness of the remedy will be included in the upcoming Five-Year Review report. The report is scheduled to be completed by 8/15/17.

What is an EPA Five-Year Review?

EPA inspects Superfund sites every five years to ensure that cleanups conducted remain fully protective of human health and the environment. These regular reviews, which are required by federal law when contaminants remain at a site, include:

- Inspection of the site and cleanup technologies;
- Review of monitoring data, operating data, and maintenance records, and
- Determining if any new regulatory requirements have been established since EPA's original cleanup decision was finalized.
